

Being informed

- There is a wealth of information about climate change: TV programmes on the topic, websites, books, organizations, government statistics and so on. Getting God's perspective on this topic is a very good starting point. Here are a couple suggestions:
- A Christian Guide to Environmental Issues, Martin and Margot Hodgson. Reflections on Biblical themes sit alongside descriptions of the environmental issues the world faces.
- Tearfund have an excellent six-part video series with questions suitable for home groups:
