

Cyprus | Fairheads

1. Tape backup - We have a lot of data and the tape backup system failed. We bought a new (second hand) one and Timothy is trying to get it to work before term starts

2. Hardware edit suite for surround sound - I have currently worked in mono and stereo, but modern films are made in surround sound. I have purchased and ordered all the parts to make the edit suite compatible to the new Dolby Atmos (surround sound) system and busy trying to get it to work. There's a lot of detail to this!

3. Music for Prodigal upscale - Stuart is working on new music to match into the original music for the film. There is approximately 70 minutes of music to recreate!

4. Colour grading for Prodigal upscale - this was originally a 'made for television' movie about 35 years ago, each shot will be colour grading to bring it up to modern standards. Some of this is straightforward, some quite complex.

5. Retyping in Arabic the end roller captions for HD.
